Still don't think you can hit 300HP on a stock 1MZ + SC. As for cost. If you're not going to do the majority of the work yourself, I'd say that the 1000 - 1500$ for an engine build is "conservative" to say the least. I'd suggest you check into some of the build threads before you get in over your head. (really read through them)
