Calculation of Discrepancy Measures and Applications ...
The long poem, "The Panorama ." must be considered a failure, poetically speaking. A novel, except by the extremest stretch of courtesy, it is not, being simply a panorama of the moods of its scarcely heroic hero. The Twilight of the Gods is a panorama of human folly and farce.

FastBooks.eu - William Chen: A Panorama of Discrepancy Theory
The answer proposed by self-discrepancy theory is that even when people have the same specific goals, such as seniors in high school wanting to go to a good college or older adults wanting a good marriage, they often vary in how they represent these goals. Some individuals represent their goals (or standards),...
