Ninja hacking : unconventional penetration testing tactics ...

In United States films of the Western genre between the 1920s and the 1940s, white hats were often worn by heroes and black hats by villains to symbolize the contrast in good versus evil. The 1903 short film The Great Train Robbery was the first to apply this convention. Two exceptions to the convention were portrayals by William Boyd (active 1918-1954), who wore dark clothing as Hopalong ...

Ninja Hacking: Unconventional Penetration Testing Tactics ...

"Ninja Hacking" doesn't really dwell on tools to use, but on a mindset of how to incorporate different methods of thought. A lot of the Penetration Testing methods cited would never be ethically used; like getting people fired or using torture, but it's certainly methods that probably wouldn't be overlooked by the Government.
